

The internal metal frame features an elastic webbing suspension system, fully encased in shape-retaining, differentiated-density polyurethane foam and wrapped in polyester fiber for absolute comfort. Supporting the sofa is a sturdy steel base with an epoxy powder-coated finish. The ergonomics, too, reflect this play of balance: the backrest structure, shaped from crushproof polyurethane foam and polyester fiber, cradles an incredibly soft, pure goose down cushion.

Sole Luna is available in either fabric or leather.
